

The following data provides a broad overview of recent activity in the wood and wood products sector, with a special focus on UK trade activity.

Data for 2009, and the most recently available data for 2010 (January – March) is included. The data was sourced from the CSO.

The data covers:

- a) Imports: pages 2-10
- b) Exports: pages 11-19
- c) UK import and export figures for 2005-2009: pages 20-25

Imports:

The UK continues to import the highest level of wood and wood products into Ireland, with 50% of imports in 2009 originating in the UK. EU imports constituted 29% of imports, while imports from outside the EU represented 21% of the total.

Early 2010 figures (January-March) are behind the corresponding figures for 2009. While fuel wood and wood charcoal imports (SITC 245) and veneers, plywood, particle board and other wood (SITC 634) outpaced 2009 figures, the remaining sub-categories are behind 2009 imports for the same months.

Exports:

Exports in the wood and wood products sector continue to outpace imports; the balance of trade is definitively in positive territory in relation to exports. In 2009, an overwhelming majority of wood and wood products were exported to the UK, comprising 89% of wood and wood products exports.

Exports for January-March 2010 represent an increase of 65% when compared to the same period in 2009. On a volume basis, wood in the rough, whether or not stripped of bark or sapwood, or roughly squared (SITC 247) and veneers, plywood, particle board and other wood worked (SITC 634) are the strongest performers, amounting to 63% of total wood and wood product exports.

UK Trade Figures:

The provisional UK import and export figures, as published by the Forestry Commission, are compiled by HM Revenue and Customs from trade declarations and Intrastat reporting for intra-EC trade.

On a volume basis, 2009 imports of wood based panels experienced a decrease of 26% in comparison to 2008 figures. Over the same period, imports of sawnwood fell by 12% to 5.2 million m³. Wood exports fell by 35% when compared to 2008 data.

Wood product imports in 2009 were valued at a total of £5.8 billion, a decrease of 9% when compared to 2008 figures.
